

WATER GOING TO WASTE IN VERDUGO CANYON

SOME FACTS IN REGARD TO THE WATER BOND ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY FROM WHICH INTELLIGENT VOTERS MAY DRAW THEIR OWN CONCLUSIONS—SHALL WE DO SOMETHING OR SHALL WE DO NOTHING? IS QUESTION OF HOUR

A bond election occurs Tuesday next, when the voters of Glendale will express themselves at the ballot box upon the subject of establishing a municipal water system. It would be difficult to overestimate the importance of this matter and the writer desires to set before the public some facts in connection with the subject, upon which the intelligent voter may proceed to form his own conclusions, and it is my desire to do this without any embellishments or attempt at this time to make any argument. The situation in a portion of the city is serious as regards the supply of water and will become more acute for three or four months to come, and yet at the same time nearly enough water is going to waste in Verdugo canyon, the source of our supply, to answer the present requirements of the city for domestic purposes. This waste is caused by the fact that the pipe of the Verdugo canyon company is inadequate to accommodate all of the water that the stream affords.

A thickly settled portion of the city is dependent upon a line of pipe of inadequate capacity, not backed by a reservoir, upon which the numerous inhabitants are drawing almost constantly, so that there is almost no pressure left and it is impossible to secure a stream of any ordinary volume. Up to this time providence has been somewhat kind and no serious fires have occurred in that section. Should a fire break out with a wind coming from a quarter which would assist the spread of the flames, the result would certainly be very serious.

In another section of the city there is a system backed by a reservoir, but furnished water through small pipes, so that the pressure although at times fair, is at other hours almost nothing. Here also the danger from fire is great. There are many fine residences with beautiful lawns and shrubbery adorning the grounds. Two years ago, because of an accident to a pump, the water shortage for a fortnight was acute and many of the beautiful lawns dried up. At any time there is liable to be a repetition of this experience and it should be remembered that it was owing to the vigorous action of the president of the board of city trustees that the water company remedied this condition before it became entirely unbearable. The public should bear in mind the fact that unsatisfactory conditions in regard to the water in Glendale have never once been the result of a shortage of the supply. Always it has been the fault of the delivery system. Now it is proposed to remedy this condition by the city taking over the property of the different companies doing business in the city, consolidate them under a municipal system suitable to the city's needs and relieve the situation practically at once.

The opponents of the bonds set forth their wishes in a resolution offered at the high school mass meeting (it was not adopted), demanding that the trustees do nothing at present. Therefore, the bond election Tuesday next might fairly be stated thus: Shall we do something, or shall we do nothing? Now what is it proposed specifically to do?

First: Secure the existing water systems. When the matter came to a vote before, the price suggested to be paid for these systems was one fixed by the owners. Today it is a price fixed by an entirely disinterested body with all its bias being towards the purchaser, a body that is the highest legal authority in the state save only the supreme court! It is absolutely futile to dispute the findings of this body as to the value. Somewhere, sometime and by something or somebody, there must be a final arbiter of values when in the nature of things the matter is subject to differences of opinion. This final fixing of valuations has been accepted by the water companies, although much lower than their own figures, because they have no recourse and must make the best of a "Hobson's choice." Individuals may intimate that the railroad commission's expert was deceived and is not as high authority as their individual selves, but an unfeeling community of intelligent citizens will not give much sympathy to this idea. There can be no plea made in this election as has been made before that full details as to the property proposed to be purchased are not available. The railroad commission's report has been published in full and is very specific. Every line of pipe and piece of machinery, every share of water and every share of pipe stock; in fact, everything that it is proposed to purchase is listed in detail. The cheap and common argument to the effect that it is "rotten pipe" is fully answered in the fact that in every pipe line full allowance is made for depreciation and if any of the pipe is "rotten," it is proposed to pay for the same a "rotten" price; in fact, some of the pipe was thrown out entirely in the inventory.

As to the quantity of water that the city will acquire: This includes from the Consolidated company 1239 shares, from the Verdugo Springs company 666 shares, from the Miradero company 487 shares, a total of 2392 ten-thousandths of the water of the canyon stream, or one-fourth, lacking 108 shares or ten-thousandths. The present supply in the stream is about 250 inches, one-fourth of which is 62½ inches. But the minimum supply of the stream is fixed at 155 inches, and it is at this rate and on this basis that the city is to buy.

At the minimum measurement, therefore, the city secures say 38 inches of canyon water. Now this 38 inches is all it pays for. The railroad commission with a heart of generosity for the consumer as against the unfortunate water owner, allows the city to take without remuneration to have and to hold for itself all the water in the two wells to be acquired, one on the Consolidated company's grounds, with a capacity of 37 inches, and one now belonging to the Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir company, from which 12 inches is pumped. Here is a total of 87 inches of water to be secured by paying for only 38 inches. Note the valuations placed by the commission on these well properties and then raise, if you can, the question whether these values are too high: Consolidated company, a 12-inch well at $682 (at that time the yield of this well was 25 inches, it having since been developed to the capacity stated above). Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir company, a 10-inch well, 200 feet deep, $424. If anybody can put down water producing wells at this price, he is a wonder. The opposition assumes that there can be very little water developed in Verdugo canyon. The unanimous verdict of all the practical men that have had experience with water in that canyon is to the contrary and they are supported by engineers of wide experience in the opinion that at least 100 inches can be developed, while Mr. J. A. Pirtle, F. R. Sinclair, W. L. Nelson and others assert their intelligent conviction that 500 inches can be developed. At the present time the Verdugo Canyon Water company is considering the construction of an infiltration gallery upon the recommendation of Mr. F. H. Olmstead, an engineer of great experience and high standing, who expresses the belief that for the comparatively small sum of $10,000 from forty to eighty inches of water can be developed and its purity assured by being kept entirely underground.

There are a number of good wells in the upper part of the valley below the outlet of the canyon—eight or ten of them—the most of them with inadequate pumping machinery, but yielding satisfactory flows. The city of Glendale can, judging by present developments in this line, double the quantity being used in the city today within three months from the time the bonds are sold. And the city can in case of emergency secure, temporarily at least, extra water from any of three or four wells in the city. The valuations placed upon the property of the various companies is as follows:

Consolidated company	$69,782.66
Verdugo Springs	50,292.00
Miradero	24,919.00
Verdugo P. & R. Co.	14,241.00
Total	$159,234.66

This price includes:
Real Estate.....$10,399
Reservoirs.....8,206
Meters.....19,038
Services.....11,288

But that of most value which the city will acquire if it comes into possession of these properties as a result of the people voting in favor of the bonds, is the business of the existing companies. It does not matter whether the city of Glendale goes into the municipal water business by acquiring water from Verdugo canyon, Owens river or the Los Angeles river, it is an absolutely essential

MRS. GOODE HOSTESS

MRS. GOODE ENTERTAINS CLUB INFORMALLY AT DINNER RECENTLY

With golden coreopsis peeping out from behind masses of delicate fern, the center of the table at which Mrs. C. M. Goode seated her guests at dinner in her home, 875 South Louise street, was like unto a glorious moon surrounded by the brightest of stars.

A delicious course dinner was served from 6:30 to 8 o'clock and places were marked by cunning little yellow and white cards that were later used as jallies for Five Hundred, prizes for which were awarded at the close of the evening to Mrs. O. E. Clemens and Mr. J. Herbert Smith, holders of highest scores, and to Mrs. J. Herbert Smith and Mr. R. E. Hewes, who had no luck at all.

Guests for the evening were members of the Saturday Night Five Hundred club, namely, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hewes of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. McKenney, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Clemens, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Goode, Miss Charlotte Castle and Masters Charles Phillips, Earl Clemens and Clarence Goode.

BELL STATES POSITION

The following letter from our congressman, Charles W. Bell, states very clearly his position on the prohibition amendment and will be very encouraging to all who long to see the state and nation dry:

Mr. Jasper N. McGillis,
Glendale, California.

My Dear Sir: Replying to your communication in the matter of the national prohibition amendment, I will say that it now seems probable that before the close of the present session of congress this matter may come before the House of Representatives for a decision.

I am thoroughly in sympathy with this amendment and shall take pleasure in voting for the same, and will also try to do some effective work among other members of congress in order that we may secure the two-thirds majority necessary to pass an amendment to the federal constitution.

Those familiar with my record while a member of the state senate of the California legislature, and while chairman of the public morals committee, will remember the effective work I did to secure the local option law, which has produced such splendid results in our state.

Trusting that this measure may pass before adjournment of this session of congress, I am

Very truly yours,

CHAS. W. BELL.

GREAT SEAL FARM ESTABLISHED AT SEAL BEACH

The public will be interested to learn that Seal Beach is to have a seal farm, where seals and sea lions are to be tamed and trained for circuses, vaudeville and similar entertainments. The Guy M. Rush company and the Pacific Electric Railway company, together with the Bay-side Land company, are co-operating to make this farm a success from the very start and plans to make it an international supply station for educating seals. Negotiations have been pending for some time and contracts have finally been signed enabling the work to proceed as quickly as possible. Captain Hudgen will train the seals.

LAST OF MERRY BI-MONTHLY GATHERINGS UNTIL FALL

Dozens of huge Shasta daisies and fern, the whiteness of which was relieved here and there by touches of blue and gold and brightened quite frequently by the cunning face of adorable kewpie dolls, were attractively used for decorating by Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Henry in her home Monday evening when they entertained the Monday Night Five Hundred club for the last time this summer.

As usual, Five Hundred served to interest the twenty-four guests, who kept scores on tally cards cleverly adorned with pen and ink sketches of little kewpies.

A delicious midnight supper was served at the small tables and when finished the guests bid their adieux to their charming host and hostess, announcing the while that they would be all eagerness until the coming of fall, when the good times of the winter months past would be renewed.

FOOTHILL CLUB

The Foothill Club will meet with Mrs. Alfred Priest, 1422 North Central avenue, Friday afternoon, July 17th.

CLUB WORK PLANNED

EXECUTIVE BOARD AND CHAIRMEN MEET TO ARRANGE FOR COMING YEAR

At a recent meeting of the executive board and chairmen of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, which was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, 106 Orange street, business arrangements and details in carrying out club work next year were made.

Many new departments were inaugurated, two being parliamentary law, in charge of Mrs. P. S. McNutt, and legislative, in charge of Mrs. Charles E. Hutchinson. The new Shakespeare section will be in charge of Mrs. W. E. Evans and the section on art and travel will be headed by Mrs. R. E. Chase. As chairman of public affairs, Mrs. A. W. Tower was appointed to act in conjunction with the executive board.

This public affairs department of the club will be for open discussion of any question pertaining to public welfare upon which the citizens are to vote. This will include not only local matters, but legislative matters affecting the county or state. Public meetings will be held under the committee throughout the year and matters as have been mentioned will be given a full discussion from both sides of the question involved. This public affairs department of the club is intended to be used as a source of information on all subjects where ballot is required, but not for furthering personal politics or politicians in any way.

Club members expect this to be the live department of the club and it is hoped considerable good will be accomplished during the coming year.

Concluding the afternoon of business, a few moments were devoted to social chatter, during which time dainty refreshments were served to the twenty ladies of the advisory council, which consists of chairmen of all the departments and executive board of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale. Meetings will be held regularly once every month.

"JOLLY TWELVE" GUESTS OF MR. AND MRS. BEACH

Members of the "Jolly Twelve" were guests on Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Beach, 333 North Brand boulevard, where a merry time at Five Hundred, music and song ensued until the wee sma' hours of the morning.

Combined with the splendid evening and gracious hospitality were quantities of beautiful pink Cochet roses grouped in huge bunches all over the house.

Members of the "Jolly Twelve" are Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beamon, Mr. and Mrs. V. Price Brown, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hinchcliff, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Truitt and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Beach.

MR. MacRAE GOES EAST

Mr. W. D. MacRae of 1436 Salem street, state secretary for rural work of the Young Men's Christian Association, left Monday for the summer school of the Y. M. C. A. at Asilomar near Pacific Grove, where he will spend two weeks prior to joining his wife, who is visiting her relatives near Grand Rapids, Mich. Later he will visit his own former home near Ottawa in Canada. The last two weeks of August Mr. MacRae will attend the summer school of the Y. M. C. A. at Silver Bay on Lake George in New York state and a conference of state and international secretaries of rural or county work of this organization. The MacRaes will be welcomed back to their Glendale home early in September.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The attendance at all services was exceptionally good. At the communion service in the morning the following persons were received into the membership of the church: Mr. W. J. Button, Mrs. W. J. Button and Miss Button of 1307 West First street; Mrs. Hannah Belle Brown, 241 Orange street; Mr. Lewis Abell, 315 North Maryland avenue; Mrs. Clara Bullinger, 244 Central avenue; Mrs. Sarah Van Dyke, 1436 West Third; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beideman, 1453 Ivy street. The total received since January 1st is thirty-five.

The rendering of original poems by Colonel Ward Fitzgerald at the evening service was greatly enjoyed. The colonel possesses fine dramatic powers. At about sixty years of age he was converted from the teachings of Robert Ingersoll, with whom he practiced law for several years, to Christianity. The recital of these experiences made a deep impression on the audience.

CITY TRUSTEES HOLD A TWO HOUR SESSION

LEWELLYN IRON WORKS AWARDED CONTRACT TO FURNISH LIGHTING STANDARDS—DAIRY ON HOWARD STREET AGREES TO CLEAN UP—CITY MANAGER PRESENTS PLAN FOR STREET IMPROVEMENT—LIBRARY TO BE FURNISHED—CARPENTERS' UNION ASKS FOR CO-OPERATION

The regular meeting of the board of trustees of the city of Glendale was held in the city hall Monday evening, July 13, 1914. Present: O. A. Lane, president of board, and Trustees Chas. Grist, J. S. Thompson, A. W. Tower and Geo. Williams. Also present: City Manager T. W. Watson, City Clerk J. C. Sherer, City Attorney W. E. Evans, City Engineer Edw. M. Lynch, City Marshal Geo. H. Herald, City Health Officer Dr. R. E. Chase.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved, after which communications were opened and read.

H. B. Lynch, manager of the city electric light department, recommended that the contract for furnishing the nineteen lighting standards be awarded to the Llewellyn Iron Works. The board approved of the recommendation.

The application of E. W. Kinser to be appointed deputy marshal without pay was received and placed on file.

An application was received from Wm. Burns asking permission to improve Adams street near Elrose avenue. Permission was granted.

The city manager reported that he had inquired into the condition of Bond's dairy on Howard street. With a promise from the owner to clean up the premises and get rid of the cows soon, no action is advised at present.

The question of the city entering into a contract with the band was referred to a committee of the whole.

City Manager T. W. Watson recommended that work be done on the streets as follows:

To the Honorable Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale:

As per your request of July 6th, I hereby submit the following report and recommendations in regard to the repair of streets in the city of Glendale.

As we all know, a great many of our streets are in very bad condition and need attention at once. To remedy the chief defect in these streets, which is the absence of a solid rock base, would require complete reconstruction. Owing to the many extra calls on the city for funds this year, it would not be advisable to enter upon an extended plan of reconstructing these streets at this time.

Another defect is the presence of excessive oil, which concentrates in large ridges making the surface exceedingly rough, and the deep holes and ruts cut by the heavy traffic in weak places in the street surface. This defect can be greatly reduced by running a heavy grader over the streets, cutting off the ridges and placing the trimmings in the holes and ruts. This can be done at a comparatively small expense and will greatly improve the surface of the streets.

It is difficult to estimate the expense of such work; however, a small crew of four men, using the city roller, grader and other equipment at an expense of $12 per day, could in the next sixty days go over in this manner the greater part of these streets, greatly improving them.

Another defect is those deep and abrupt depressions at many of the street intersections. These defects can be greatly remedied by filling one of the gutters at each street intersection and cutting back the crown of the street so as to ease off the approach to the remaining one. We improved three of these intersections in that manner at an average cost of $13 per intersection.

To carry on the above repairing and take care of the street sprinkling and cleaning, and the trimming of street trees and cleaning of parkways will require an expenditure of about $25 per day for the next three months.

This work is greatly needed, and I would recommend that it be done. It will not require more than $15 per day in cash to carry this work on until money is available from this year's taxes.

Estimate of cost of replacing curbs and sidewalks washed out by the storm of last winter:

615 ft. of curbing at 25c.....	$153.75
Also cement curb and protection around tree at Doran and Central:
Repairing sidewalks.....	10.00
66 ft. curb at 25c.....	16.00
Extra work removing, filling, etc.,	5.00
Total.....	$184.75

The board approved of the above report and instructed the city manager to proceed at once to carry out the plans as recommended.

On motion the board of trustees agree that if the water bonds carry, that said bonds be issued thirty-one in number and amount of each $8000. The first to be paid six years hence, 1920, and $8000 each year thereafter until the whole is paid, resulting in the final payment being made in 1950.

On motion the public library board, is requested to report what furniture is needed to furnish the rooms and report the same to the finance committee, who will advertise for bids.

On motion the city manager was instructed to have water hydrants installed at the following places: Corner of Doran and Maryland, Doran and Louise, Doran and Kenwood, Salem and Columbus, Myrtle and Columbus, Pioneer and Columbus, Burnett and Columbus, Patterson and Columbus.

W. H. Crane, secretary of the Merchants' Association appeared before the board in behalf of the van and auto truck moving ordinance. He explained it would be a great advantage to the merchants if a system could be agreed upon requiring transfer truck men to make a record of the place to which their patrons move when their household goods are taken out of Glendale, thus enabling the merchants to correspond with parties who have left the city without paying all indebtedness. The question will come up at a later date for consideration.

Paul E. Gilmore, who is a member of the Carpenters' Union of Glendale, was present to ask that the board of trustees appoint a committee to inquire into the conditions of the Carpenters' Union in Glendale. Trustees Tower, Grist and Williams were appointed a committee to make investigations.

Dr. A. N. Conrad, Dr. William C. Mabry and Attorney H. B. Goodwin of Tropicco appeared before the board to consider handling the garbage question in conjunction with Glendale. Dr. Conrad is a member of the board of trustees of Tropicco, Dr. Mabry is the health officer of that city and H. B. Goodwin is Tropicco's city attorney. The question was taken up for consideration in a committee of the whole.

Adjournment.

SISTERHOOD MEETS

The meeting of the First Methodist Sisterhood, which was held Monday at the home of Miss Olive Marsh, 211 Cedar street, and presided over by Mrs. Shattuck, proved most interesting to those concerned, as besides other business transactions, class work for the coming year was satisfactorily mapped out. A social hour and refreshments followed, after which the fifteen members present departed.

ELKS' SOCIAL AND DANCE

The Elks' Patrol drill team have changed the basket picnic and dance at Verdugo park to a sociable and dance at the Elks' clubrooms on the evening of July 30. Those who have already purchased tickets to the picnic should take notice of this change. Your tickets may be exchanged or your money refunded.

FLINCH PARTY

Of recent occurrence and particular enjoyment was the Flinch party at which Miss Winifred Jones, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, entertained six Los Angeles girl friends in her parents' home, 106 Orange street.

A pink and green motif was daintily carried out both in decorations and in the delicious refreshments that were served at a large table in the pergola, where the afternoon was spent playing Flinch. Miss Winifred was assisted during the afternoon by her mother.

MR. CAVANAUGH RETURNS

The many friends of F. M. Cavanaugh, who was formerly with the Pulliam Undertaking Company, will be pleased to know that he has returned to Glendale and is again with the Pulliam company, where he takes the place of J. D. Worthington and where he will remain permanently.

Cushing, librarian of the Tropico city library, at San Diego as a delegate to the State Library Association, a number of the Boy Scout brigade of Tropico, of which Joy Goodsell is scout master, invaded the grounds surrounding the library building and made a thorough and general clean-up of all weeds, rubbish, etc., that had accumulated. Mr. Cushing is expressing much pleasure and satisfaction for the manly act of these Boy Scouts. Mr. Cushing is not alone in his words of praise and appreciation for the generous act of these boys, as the library board, W. J. Hibbert, chairman; Mrs. Wesley H. Bullis, secretary; Mrs. John A. SOME SUFFRAGETTE

A suffragette, ninety feet tall, and with a name of equal proportions, stands at the center of "The Zone" of the Panama-Pacific international exposition. The lady's name is Miss Panama Pankaline Imogene Equal-rights, and she is clad in the latest style. More than five hundred yards of cloth are required for this style. She carries a drum and flag labeled "Votes for Women."

BEAUTIFYING GROUNDS

In orders just sent by the Panama-Pacific international exposition to Japan, Australia, England, Holland and Belgium, more than 500,000 flowering plants are ordered for the exposition grounds. The long list includes rhododendrons of hybrid varieties, daffodil bulbs, Mayflowering tulips, early tulips, anemones, ranunculus, hyacinths, Spanish iris, Japanese iris, English iris, narcissus, red azaleas, tree peonies and lilies.

Most of the camping places along streams are quite gnatty.

The Epworth League held a most inspiring meeting Sunday evening with Miss Alice Kolby as leader, who led in Mrs. Robinson's place, as she is in the East on a vacation. As the roll call was read, each responded with a verse from the Bible. Miss Olive Moe sang a solo, "Show Me the Way, O Father." Also "Saved by Grace" with Mr. House, who sang tenor. During the summer months the preaching services will be discontinued and League will commence at 7 o'clock.

WATER GOING TO WASTE

requisite of financial success that the city have a monopoly of the business. It would be the height of folly to attempt to parallel the lines of existing companies and enter into competition with them. The existing water companies are all doing a paying business. Two of them, at least, are dividend producers. The Consolidated company has a heavy bonded indebtedness incurred by a previous administration, which probably deserves any degree of severe criticism for its methods which anyone may wish to indulge in, but it is at present being carried on in a business-like manner by the trustee, Mr. Brand, and it needs no other statement to show that it is doing well than the fact that it furnishes water to about 1500 patrons in this city at rates which must produce at least an income of $3000 a month gross. The Verdugo Springs company has something like 625 connections, which doubtless average as high as do those of the first named company and represent about $1200 monthly income. The Miradero company has, according to the commission's report, 288 service connections, probably increased to 300 by this time, with an average for every connection of at least $2.00. The Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir company is not a dividend producer, but is practically free from debt. Has been for three or four years past putting its excess earnings into the betterment of the plant and has a constantly increasing patronage. Here, then, is a business of which the city may have a monopoly, having in the beginning at least 2500 patrons producing a gross revenue of $5000 monthly. One does not need to go further into details, for it is evident to anyone that nothing but an "act of providence" can prevent it from being a big revenue producer from the start, with sufficient net revenue every year to provide for the interest on its bonds, set aside a sinking fund to provide for maturing bonds, and allow enough besides to take care of any ordinary expenditure for betterment. The electric light, municipally controlled and owned system of the City of Glendale, began business with about six hundred patrons, and at this time has about twenty-five hundred. The city voted $100,000 in bonds for this enterprise and the taxpayers now own a plant worth probably $200,000, which has never cost them a dollar except for the initial expenditure for election purposes. And the success of this electric light and power system was made possible because the city trustees were wise enough to buy out (at a high price, too), a company which would otherwise have been a competitor.

Another opponent of the proposed water bond issue remarks that electricity isn't water, which sapience is apparent to even the uneducated. There are people who do not use electricity, but the human being who does not use water has not yet been discovered—although there are said to be a few with whom it is not popular as a beverage.

There may be intelligent people in Glendale who in view of the above facts will persist in voting against their own interests and against the bonds on Tuesday next, but until the votes are counted to prove him wrong the writer of this does not believe they constitute a large enough portion of our citizens to defeat the proposition.

AROUND-THE-WORLD RACE

Arnold Kruckman, chief of the bureau of aeronautics of the Panama-Pacific international exposition, is now in Liverpool on his way around the world choosing the chain of control and supply stations for the around-the-world aviation race.

From England he will go to Iceland and Greenland, then to France, Germany, Russia, across Siberia to Japan and across the Bering Straits to Alaska and then to San Francisco.

As a man thinks, so he is. And that is equally true of the town. If your citizens and business men think they have a healthy, growing, vigorous town, it is ten to one that is the kind of a town it is and will be.
